Verne Doran Is Now Eligible For Parole

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14. (UP)—The district attorney's office today announced that a robbery charge against Verne Doran, who turned state's evidence in the Jesse Scott Hume murder case, Doran, that was made eligible for parole.

RATE SLASH IS HELD UP BY COURTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14. (UP)—The state railroad commission was restrained by a federal court order today from enforcing its order that the Pacific Gas & Electric company reduce its natural gas rates to save consumers $2,000,000 annually.

First reductions were to have been made Saturday. Simultaneously, the gas firm would have been forced to return to consumers some $750,000 collected previously, since the order was partially retroactive.

The P. G. & E. asked the injunction on the ground that the commission's order, issued after a long series of hearings in which parties from many Northern California communities, was contradictory and in violation of the due process clause of the state constitution.

Judge Harold Lombard, sitting in the absence of two fellow judges, issued the temporary injunction.

The railroad commission was ordered to appear December 22 to show cause why its order should not be reversed. It was believed that the P. G. & E. on that occasion would ask that the injunction be made permanent.

The City of San Francisco had indicated it will fight the injunction.

The P. G. & E., at the hearing today.

Two States In Moves to Hold Lynch Leaders

By UNITED PRESS

Prosecuting agencies in Missouri and California today were prepared to proceed with vigor against persons who took part in the mob lynchings in San Jose and St. Joseph.

Despite Governor James Rolph's assertion that he will pardon any one convicted of a part in the lynching of two confessed kidnapers, Anthony Cataldi, 17, was arrested there and released on bond.

In St. Joseph, seven men are held under various charges in connection with the hanging and burning of Lloyd Warger, a negro who was accused of assaulting a white woman.

Meanwhile, Maryland authorities were understood to be continuing their investigation of the Princess Anne lynching, in which a negro met death at the hands of a mob. Rioting followed the arrest of four men of the mob, and the prisoners were later released.

S. P. Man Defends Position of Firm

In view of statements appearing in this morning's newspapers relative to a strike vote taken by certain employees of the Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferry, E. H. Mazzard, vice-president and general manager of the company, yesterday made the following statement:

"The issue between the Ferry company and the Union is simply whether at this time the Ferry company shall pay more than the general prevailing rate only on all San Francisco Bay ferries in effect respecting the vehicle ferries the higher 1929 or pre-depression wages when such wages are not paid for like service on the passenger ferries.

"Since Federal control of railroads, the various companies operating ferryboat service on San Francisco bay have paid their employees a uniform scale of wages for the same classes of service. The Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferry, Ltd., under agreement with its employees, has paid the same wages as the railroads.

"Effective May 1, 1932, for a similar agreement that had been made applicable to railroad and Key System employees, an agreement was reached with the Labor Union representative of the employees, providing for a deduction of 10 per cent from their pay checks, for a period of one year. March 29, 1933, a further agreement was entered into covering an extension of the 10 per cent deduction arrangement to October 31, 1933, to conform to action that had been taken with respect to railroad employees, including those in ferryboat service.

"The monthly wage rates for an eight-hour day, six-day (48 hour) week under this arrangement are as follows:

Occupation: Captain; monthly wages, $200; monthly wages with 10 percent deduction, $180. First Officer; monthly wages, $190; monthly wages with 10 percent deduction, $171. Second Officer; monthly wages, $165; monthly wages with 10 percent deduction, $148.50. Chief Engineer; monthly wages, $265; monthly wages with 10 percent deduction, $238.50. Asst. Chief Engineer; monthly wages, $240; monthly wages with 10 percent deduction, $216. 1st Assistant Engineer; monthly wages, $190; monthly wages with 10 percent deduction, $171. Deckhand; monthly wages, $129.00; monthly wages with 10 percent deduction, $116.10. Fireman and Oilers; monthly wages, $163.20; monthly wages with 10 percent deduction, $146.88.

"Last summer, in connection with an endeavor of the railroads to secure a 2 1/2 per cent reduction in basic wage rates, representatives of the railroads and the National Labor organizations were summoned to Washington where they met with Joseph E. Eastman, Federal Coordinator of Transportation. A compromise was effected and on June 21, a further extension of the 10 per cent deduction arrangement to June 30, 1934, was agreed to following this, other railroad labor organizations, not parties to the Washington agreement, including those representing ferryboat employees, agreed to a similar extension of the deduction arrangement.

"Properly wishing a continuation of the same wage arrangement for its employees, as had been adopted for employees of the railroads serving in similar capacities (with whom they had been on a parity for many years), the Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferry, Ltd., on August 30, 1932, submitted to the labor organizations representing its employees, a proposal for the continuation of the 10 per cent deduction arrangement until June 30, 1934, this being the only reduction in wages or earnings that our employees have asked to accept during the existing general business depression.

"Notwithstanding that our employees have in the past benefitted by receiving from this and predecessor companies the same increase from time to time as were given employees of railroad-operated ferries, and the labor union representatives to whom this proposal was made had agreed to a continuation of the deduction arrangement on behalf of the railroad ferryboat employees, also those of the Key System, they are unwilling to accept the Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferry, Ltd., the same consideration, so that its employees may be kept on a parity as to wages with those in service on the other companies operating ferryboats on San Francisco bay.

"If the insistence of our employees should be acceded to, it would mean that such employees would be receiving higher wages than are paid employees of other companies where performing the same class of service for any of the other ferry lines on San Francisco bay, a condition which the management does not feel it can accept."

TEN DIE AS TRAIN HITS SCHOOL BUS

The Owens child and Merle Smith died in a Palatka hospital this afternoon.

Most critically injured were Thomas Freeman, Henrietta King, 16, and William Hoag, 17.

Official investigation into the accident is to be held tomorrow before Justice of the Peace R. E. Hall.

Barrow said Niles, although an elderly man, had been driving the school bus for five years "and was considered one of our best and most careful drivers."

LOG BLAMED

The highway traversed by the bus parallels the railroad tracks for some distance near where the crash occurred. The bus came to the tracks just after making a left turn, dense fog made visibility poor and was blamed for the wreck.

Thurman McCamy, 16 year old student who was injured seriously in the crash, said "the front wheels of the bus were on the tracks before I saw the freight engine coming toward us dimly through the fog. We all screamed and jumped from our seats and then came that awful crash."

THE REAR OF BUS

The train hit into the rear of the vehicle. Heavier loss of life was believed prevented by the children starting a rush to the front of the bus when they glimpsed the train bearing down on them through the fog.

R. A. Howell, engineer of the train, said that he had held his whistle wide open as he approached the fatal crossing, which is five miles south of here. Noise from the bus motor in the enclosed vehicle was believed to have prevented its driver or passengers from hearing the warning whistle.

SCENE OF HORROR

The wreck was a scene of horror and confusion as ambulances arrived to pick up dead and injured children, lying about the roadside, and mothers and fathers frantically tried to identify their loved ones. Some identifications could be made only by clothes worn by the children.

Those injured were taken to hospitals here, in Palatka and Deland.

Eighty Years of Building

THAT is what is represented by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company of today. The little gas company of pioneer San Francisco had a dozen miles of main and two or three hundred customers. Today's company, which grew out of it, extends into forty-five Northern California counties. Its customers number 1,250,000 and it serves a territory covering 89,000 square miles.

This great growth has been more than a mere part of the growth of the state itself. It has kept ahead of that growth and has been an important factor in promoting it. Our policy always has been to build ahead of demand, so that service would be available without delay when and where required.

All this progress did not "just happen." It resulted from careful planning, prudent management, sound policies. Periods of business stress were encountered when the company's future looked black indeed. Strenuous competition had to be met. Political attacks had to be endured. But the company survived and developed with friendly, courteous service and rates among the lowest in the country, building good will with the public and creating satisfied customers.

This company is not any one man's property; it is not the property of any group of men. It belongs to 90,000 stockholders, whose savings have been invested in the company. Eighty per cent of these stockholders live in California. The money paid them in dividends, and the money paid to other thousands as bondholders, goes into every community in the state and circulates to stimulate business in every channel of trade and industry.

These stockholders are the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. The management is made up of men hired to run this great enterprise because of their special training and consequent qualifications for the job.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company is in, of and for California. It strives to be patriotically Californian. It cooperates in every sound movement for the promotion of California's welfare. It employs more than 10,000 California citizens, whose wages help business everywhere. It is one of the state's largest buyers of California-produced materials and supplies.

It pays more in taxes than it does in dividends. Out of every dollar collected, approximately 14 cents is paid out in federal, state and local taxes.

Under the law the company is entitled to a fair return on its investment. This it must earn if it is to continue to render adequate service.

We have built with and for California for eighty years. We shall strive to build with and for California in the years to come.
